

Description of ASM3 Final Webinar: Post-Ministerial Review, Joint Statement and Actions

This webinar will look back at the ASM3 science process in connection to the final outcomes. We will have a review of the Ministerial highlights from Tokyo. This webinar is an opportunity for all those interested and engaged with the ASM to get a full picture of the outcomes, actions, and tools provided as we look a head to ASM4.

Program: 16 June 2021: 13:00 UTC

Housekeeping Remarks and Arctic Land Rights Acknowledgement

Introduction

Hiroyuki ENOMOTO, National Institute of Polar Research, ASM3 Science Advisory Board

Review of the ASM3 Science process

Embla Eir Oddsdóttir, Icelandic Arctic Cooperation Network, ASM3 Science Advisory Board

Ministerial Highlights from Tokyo

Hajime KIMURA, Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology, Japan

Looking Forward: ASM4

Anton Vasiliev, Deputy Director of the Representative Office of the Russian State Hydrometeorological University, Russia

ASM3 Final Outcomes:

- Report
Ásgerður Kjartansdóttir, Ministry of Education, Science and Culture, Iceland
Jenny Baeseman, ASM3 Science Consultant, Baeseman Consulting & Services LLC
- Joint Statement
Lindsay Arthur, Ministry of Education, Science and Culture, Iceland
- ASM3 Database and Online Resources
Tetsuo Sueyoshi, National Institute of Polar Research, Japan
- Webinar Series
Renuka Badhe, European Polar Board

Question and Answer Session

End: 14:00 UTC